Christmas Opportunities

KMBC & Family,

December is the month of opportunities. Opportunities are time sensitive. There is only a small window of opportunity for deciding and acting.

The Lord Jesus came and knew He was going. He came from His Father, and He was going back to His Father. I believe we would be truly amazed at how much He did during His time upon earth. He was always at the beck and call of His Father's will. He was always led by the Spirit who lived within Him. Every opportunity He engaged.

To seize the opportunity may change your life, someone else's life, and the world. It is better to seize the moment instead of having "it-might-have-been-moments." Declining the opportunity can lead to deepened ruts of routines.

What are some opportunities?

1. To get serious about our sins before God and allow Him to show us and to cleanse us. This makes way for using opportunities that God will place before us.
2. Prayer! Only what is done in and through God-given prayer will result in our Lord's doing and giving.
3. Witnessing! Witnessing to others flow from the heart that is cleansed and is praying in dependency upon the Father's working in us.
4. Loving! When we love God, we will love others.
5. Church Attendance! Yes, Church attendance will flourish. To teach with the power and the presence of God is greatly important in our church attendance, for we show people that God is living and abiding in us.
6. Another opportunity is the Gathering with our family in the spirit of life, love, and light changes our whole directives toward "them."
7. Giving! Giving our time and money so that the church is free to do and to be what He has called us to be and do.

May we capitalize on these opportunities for His name's sake,

Pastor Don
