MONTHLY NEWSLETTER | JUNE 2026

Dear KMBC,

One of the great joys of my life is making new friends and acquaintances in the will of God in Christ. I consider it the hand of God as He brings new people into my life or mine into theirs. It is really not about "my life" but His life in me having control over me.

I aim to look to where God is working and wait for His Spirit. I try to be all-in wherever I am. There are times when I am just tired, but at those times I ask the Lord to take over.

We cheat people of the only true God who lives in us when we are not willing. We stay to ourselves, and we are not obeying the Lord to overcome our insecurities or even our securities and strengths.

We don't have to be loud, just willing to speak when prompted. Our faith must triumph over our feelings. We must be aware of others. Our whole life ought to be about OTHERS.

Here is a secret to opening up where you are positioned; it could be at a meeting, a hospital, a birthday party, school, or other places. We are to Love God in our prayer closet and Love others in our public walk.

Don't talk about you unless you are asked and if you are, let it be a short conversation. Focus on them and not you.

We all want to spend eternity with God. We just don't seem to want to spend time with Him and allow Him to overcome us. We tend to be isolated instead of associated with others.

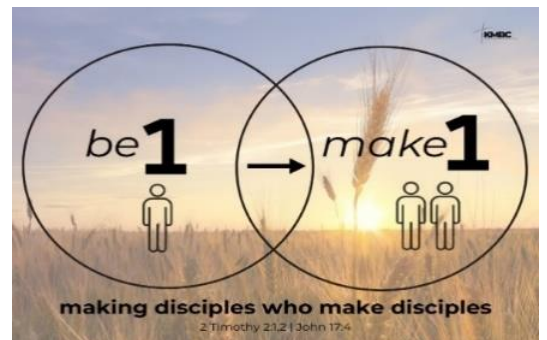

Also, please do not seek out others because you are full of self-pity or you desire attention. Allow your Lord to fill you up with Himself so that you are filled with His Spirit therefore not grieving the Spirit of God.

Newsflash: You and I are not the center of the universe; He is. When we enthrone our desires, our needs, our plans even while seeking God then He is second or third or seventh place which is idolatry.

We may sing "Jesus at the center of it all," but what we really want is for people to bow down to "you" as you bow down to Christ. It is a subtle form of selfishness that masquerades spirituality.

You are one decision away from a totally different life. Why not you? Why not now?
