

The Lord's Day

Why do we worship and attend church services on a Sunday? We do so because Christ rose from the dead Sunday morning, very early in the morning. We celebrate Him as Savior, we rejoice in His cross, and we thank God for His resurrection. We also come to pray together, we fellowship together, we break bread together around His table, we listen to the Apostle's doctrine, hear the preaching of His Word, and we embrace His truth which is glorious.

Why do we attend church services on Sunday? Throughout the New Testament we see how the early church met to worship, to sing, to pray, and to give, to meditate, of the things of God. It is the Lord's Day! Many occurrences are seen through the New Covenant.

We even have accounts of evening services on the Lord's Day. Paul even preached until midnight and after Eutychus fell from the third floor and died Paul, revived him and the meeting continued. Many report that they worshipped God all day.

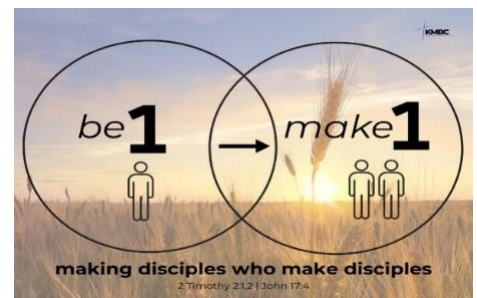

The Church services have become a drop-in one-hour deal on the way to the other activities of the day. In the early church they were hungry for God's Word and the things of God.

Sunday is a day, a whole day, a different day, that we are to glorify God and what He has done for us. That is why we come together for prayer, singing, and hearing of the Word. It is the day when you look at the most precious reality of your life and that is our salvation, sanctification, and our glorification. It is not the Lord's morning or the Lord's afternoon, or evening, hour; it is the Lord's Day.

The Bible says that we are not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together as some people were doing in that day. As we see the Lord's coming, we ought to ramp up our fellowship and not diminish it.

May Sunday be a day that we focus primarily on the glory of His salvation.
